2020 Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) Annual Report VISIONQUEST NATIONAL, LTD

Introduction

The Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) was enacted in 2003 to eliminate sexual abuse and harassment in confinement settings. PREA's implementing regulations, the "Final National Standards to Prevent, Detect and Respond to Prison Rape," were published by the Department of Justice (DOJ) and became effective on June 20, 2012. This federal act became mandated upon juvenile programs and recognized August 20, 2012 as the start date for compliance.

Agencies that had multiple programs were to get all programs audited within a three year period. The programs would then be subject to a review every three years from their last audit. In 2014, Pennsylvania recognized that PREA implementation was a slow starter and that the Bureau of Human Services Licensing should not penalize programs for being out of compliance in the first year cycle. VisionQuest contracted and started working with an auditor in January 2016 and with a committed and accelerated effort, completed the first PREA audit in May 2016. Historically, VisionQuest already reported and kept records of all abuse allegations and exercised much of the PREA practices prior to the inception and imposing of PREA as a federal mandate. This practice assisted in the gathering and assessment of data prescribed by PREA standards.

Agency Description

VisionQuest currently offers residential, community, and in-home programs to youth and their families in Arizona, Delaware, Florida, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Texas. These programs serve youth and their families in both the child welfare and juvenile justice systems; youth with mental health and substance abuse diagnoses; and families experiencing varying levels of dysfunction. In Pennsylvania, VisionQuest is licensed to operate a 19 bed facility for males in Saylorsburg. In Delaware, VisionQuest operates two 10-bed Residential Alternative to Detention (RAD) programs for both males and females. In order to demonstrate compliance with PREA, juvenile residential facilities such as those operated by VisionQuest must be audited every three years. Programs are given 180 days from the date of the written audit to formulate a plan of correction for their deficiencies. VisionQuest submitted the last of its plan of correction in October 2016 and was deemed compliant with all PREA standards.

VisionQuest collects data on every allegation of sexual abuse and sexual harassment at the facility, regardless of the resulting outcome of the investigation. Each allegation of abuse is reported to the specific state's child abuse hotline and law enforcement. Upon completion of the investigation by the state and/or the appropriate law enforcement agency, a review is conducted by VisionQuest facility administration and assigned corporate members. The objective of this review is to identify, evaluate and direct any determined changes to policy or practice at that specific facility or agency wide that are needed to prevent future incidents. A report with its findings and recommendations is produced at the completion of the review and kept on file.
